Note on the logging/use of outstanding receivables for scoring purposes
(German Data Protection Act, New Version, section 31 (2) BDSG-neu)

Provided that the outstanding receivable is not disputed, the credit agency Creditreform Boniversum may use the data in respect of this amount for the calculation of a probability value concerning the relevant person's ability and willingness to pay, subject to the further provisions specified in the German Data Protection Act (BDSG), New Version (BDSG-neu), section 31 (2). The wording of BDSG-neu, section 31 (2) can be found here: www.boniversum.de/EU-DSGVO/?lang=en
